

Artifice!

Is an artificial smile glued to ones face in a photograph a sign of happiness?

Is a conversation about anything, real, without any emotion in it?

Is a homemade cake, homemade, without a home?

Is a non-profit organisation non-profit if it brings profit?

Is food more organic if it has a label?

Are men better if they're stronger?

Are we wiser if we're older?

Are we more human without showing emotions?

Do we show emotions because we are human?

Is white lie acceptable because it's white?

Is my friend a real friend if he's a man?

Is my man my friend if he's my husband?

Are we better parents if we're older?

Are grandparents better if they're dead?

Are our children better people if they inherit our fears and limitations?

Is a soup better if it's called homemade?

Is love better if it's self love?

Is individual approach better if it's delivered in a group?

Is every person an individual or are we all the same?

If we are all the same why immigrants and women get less money for the same jobs?

Is cotton more organic if it's labelled?

I'm just asking...